DIRECTOR

ABOUT SCOTT

Scott commenced his Local Government career in 1982 with Moreton Shire Council in Queensland as a trainee Local Government Clerk. On completing his qualification as a Local Government Clerk, he accepted the role of CEO at Diamantina Shire Council. He completed his MBA and was awarded the LGMA Queensland Local Government Manager of the Year in 1998.

In 2000, Scott established Mead Consulting which is now known as the Mead Perry Group. Since this time, Scott and John have continued to work with their client councils to build their capacity and deliver quality service to their communities. While the Mead Perry Group now work with some of the largest councils in Australia and are expanding nationally, the firm maintains its commitment to supporting our client base and assisting them to continually improve their performance.

Scott's valuable and diverse experience across all sections of local government has assisted him to successfully complete many projects including corporate and operational plans, organisational planning, performance reviews, compliance reviews and local law reviews.
